76 Days Lost at Sea

Before the Perfect Storm, before In the Heart of the Sea, Steven Callahan's Adrift chronicled one of the most astounding voyages of the century and one of the great sea adventures of all time. Callahan's firsthand account of drifting for 1800 miles is one of anguish and horror, of undying heroism, of hope and survival.

Meet Steven Callahan, author of Adrift:

76 Days Lost at Sea.

A naval architect by training, Steven is president of S.P. Callahan & Associates, which provides design, research, and consulting services to the boat-building and marine safety industries.

Adrift: 76 Days Lost at Sea is “a riveting firsthand account by the only man to have survived more than a month alone at sea, fighting for his life in an inflatable raft after his small sloop capsized only six days from port. Racked by hunger, buffeted by storms, scorched by tropical sun, Callahan drifted for 1,800 miles, fighting off sharks with a makeshift spear and watching as nine ships passed him by. Adrift is a story of anguish and horror, of undying heroism, hope, and survival, and a must-read for any adventure lover.”
